Frome's missing link!

Just two miles outside of Frome town centre lies the start of a virtually traffic free cycle route that will take cyclists and pedestrians to Radstock and then on into Bath. For a long time plans have been in place to continue this route alongside the existing railway line, onto the riverside footpath and into Frome.

The time has come to complete this route into the centre of the town with all the benefits that this will bring...

Safety

With increasingly busy local roads people are nervous about cycling alongside fast moving traffic. This project would provide a traffic free environment with manageable gradients and safe crossing over busy main roads. The route will provide a safer footpath alternative to crossing the railway and road on the way out of town towards Spring Gardens.

Health

The health benefits of regular exercise are well known. In these days of increasing obesity we need to provide opportunities for the local population to gain easy access to safe and pleasant environments for exercise. The whole population will be able to use this, nearly level access to a network of quiet lanes and villages, for healthy walks, family cycles, dog walking, jogging and other forms of exercise.

Frome is a town that promotes sustainability and this route provides a safe way for those who cycle to work and an alternative to the car for local people to access the surrounding countryside. Day to day maintenance is by volunteers and so there would be no increase in public expenditure.

Sustainability

but we need your help. . .

To turn this project into a reality we need to demonstrate overwhelming support.

Already over a thousand members of the public have signed our petition and we have the support of Frome Town Council, Sustrans and Frome Medical Practice.

We hope that other organisations and industries will lend support by accessing the website at
